H. J.
 To the Public School Teachers of Greenbrier County.

Vacation is over and the schools are in session for the autumn and winter, and I would insist that each teacher employ his leisure hours by pursuing the course of Professional Reading prescribed by the State Superintendent.— Teachers will find this reading course explained in their programmes of Institute work for 1893. The works to be read this year are—

- 1, Quick's Educational Reformers.—
- 2, Education in the United States—Boone.
- 3, Elements of Pedagogy—E. E. White.
- 4, Normal Methods of Teaching.

These books can be had at the following named places and prices—Nos. 1 and 2, D. Appleton & Co., N. Y., at $1.26 each. No. 3, American Book Co., Cincinnati, at $1. No. 4, Penn Publishing Co., 1020 Arch st., Philadelphia, at $1.50.

"The law requires that all teachers shall study this prescribed course of study, and shall pass a satisfactory examination on these subjects as well as the Institute course, and obtain a No. 1 certificate before they can be released from Institute attendance." We shall arrange to examine teachers on this part of the course in the spring of 1894, and issue certificates of proficiency to those that pass a satisfactory examination on the same. Respectfully,

W. F. LOWANCE,
 County Superintendent.
